Clean bill of health, and a lovely vacation

William Rogers, Epsom

For the Monitor

September 17, 2009 - 12:00 am

Sans insurance and facing an unexpected $3,200 dental bill, I made arrangements to have the procedures done at one of the best medical facilities in Costa Rica for $700.

The doctors and caregivers were expert, and there have been no complications. I am totally satisfied with quality and obviously cost of services. The total trip to Costa Rica cost $2,010 including sightseeing tours and gifts. Bottom line: I saved $1,200 and had a great vacation in a beautiful country. Hopefully the dental need will not happen again, but if it does I would definitely return to Costa Rica.

You saved 1200 dollars on your dental bill, got a great vacation, and some fixed teeth, you o 2000 dollars to take an exotic vacation to go to a dentist, what about those of uus who can't : let alone dental insurrance or a trip to costa rica. Perfect reason why we need a public optioi americans can have a clean bill of health
